Appomattox County Library

By Verna Conner

Someone may be wondering why we so highly advertised the September 8 meeting and then said nothing about it afterward. As you know, the main purpose of that meeting was to form an organization to be called, "Friends of the Library". If you read the front page of your county paper the week of the 8th you will know that purpose was accomplished. Mrs. Dorothy Coleman was elected president of the committee; Mrs. Edith Nash, vice-president; Mrs. Barbara Mayberry, Secretary and Mrs. Alice Folks, treasurer. Now the Advisory Board is supposed to step in to the background and let the "Friends" carry on.

The ceiling of the library has been painted and looks so much better and now we are ready for the next project - perhaps a "Drop-In" on front porch for returning books when the library is closed. This has been in the suggestion box for sometime and is really needed. The present schedule calls for closing for half an hour at lunchtime. A number of people has come by at that time to bring back books and no where to leave them.

So one thing at a time and perhaps all in good time, we are slowly but surely promoting interest in the Library. Every parent of pre-school children will be glad to know that Story Hour will begin again on Tuesday the seventh of October and will be every other Tuesday.

Now let's talk about a few good fiction books by R.F. Delderfield. If you don't like books about England you won't like these but most of the regular readers have read them and thought them great. The first one is entitled, Horseman Riding By and is a novel about English country life from the Boer War to the Battle of Britian. It tells the story of a great farming valley in Devonshire and one man's determination to maintain the way of life it represents.It ends with the men of the valley preparing to resist the invasion of Hitler's paratroopers after the Battle of Dunkirk so to be sure of a happy ending one must read the book's sequel called Green Gauntlet. This is even more interesting than the first.

Another Delderfield novel is entitled, God is an Englishman and has as its sequel or companion book, Theirs is the Kingdom. These two tell the story of Adam Swann and his wife, Henrietta, who found the Swann dynasty and the great trucking industry called Swann on Wheels. Another called Give us this Day continues the story for several generations and has been compared to The Forsyte Saga.

If you read these five big books, you will most certainly ask for more at your County Library.

be used in conjunction with the program.

As it stands now no community is required to participate in this program but before flood disaster insurance coverage is available to any resident of the County or Town the local governing body must officially participate in the program.

Also, before any lending institution whose loans are federally insured can make a loan for any structure including a dwelling they must be assured that it is located outside the 100 year flood-plain as defined in accordance with the flood plain maps.

It will be the responsibility of the Building Official and the lending institution to determine whether or not a proposed structure is located outside the officially defined flood plain.

Experience of the Appomattox County Office of Building and Housing has indicated that the people in our Community are generally well aware of the flood hazard problem and located their structures accordingly.

Now, however, this kind of judgement will be defined in the form of official maps and official procedures.
